Jimmy Neely's Opinion Of It.

MISTER EDITURS: Iv ye's have ony room to spare, I'd be o'bleeged till ye fur pittin in this little piece ov mine concarnin' the sacret doins ov the Thrue Rafarmers, as they call thimselves, but don't ye thinke, Mr. Editur, Patent Fumigaturs would suit them better. Sure an' its an up hill job they've taken on themselves anyhow, the more especially consithering the sason, whin wan might know that the fumigating business will sit hard on thim, to say nothing ov the danger ov burnin thimselves up root an branch wid their patent fumigators.

Howiver, that's neither here nor thare—what I was goin to say was concarnin another mather intirely do ye see. If ye must know, I'm in the employ of lawyer B——, whose office is forninst Bob Karnahan's. The other night Micky Mulvaney—him wid the blind eye—tould me in confidince, that he wanted me take his place that night, as he was bound to go to Pat Donley's wake, havin married a cousin ov Pat's. All I had to do was to pit Mr. Karnahan's office in order for a matin. I niver pit a good turn past me, tho' I say it that should'nt say it, so I gave my word to it an' when avenin' came I pit the office in ordher, cleaned the tumblers an' put the wather jug where it would be convanient whin naded. Whin all was done, Terrence McGuire—him that is in the ould iron trade—winked at me to go up beyond wi' him. He has two butiful rooms over lawyer Karnahan's office, fixed up wid the splendidest furniture, an' the purtiest carpets. So we sat down to a quiet game ov yuker. I suppose now it was near tin o'clock, or may be a thrifle later, whin Mr. Karnahan's doore opened below, and somebody spoke up.

"Sit down, Mister Brigham; sit down Mister Kirk—take a seat Mister Weaver, make yerselves comfortable until I get out this opinion av Justice Sthrong."

"Yis," says a vice I tuk to be Ex-Mayor Weaver's—(I wonce met him in a business way if ye must know the truth)—"We may as well get to work at wonce."

Thin was a clickin' of glasses, and a spittin' an' cleanin' of ov throats. Terrence gave me a wink as much as to say, "d'ye mind that." Says I, "I'm ov the opinion Justice Sthrong is very popular. Just thin a rap came at the office doore, an' Karnahan said: "Here's Hoskinson comin'—it 'll never do to be caught this way, gintleman." "O," says a strange vice, I tuk to be Brigham's, "Hoskinson's no betther nor the rest ov us." An' sure enough it was Mr. Hoskinson. They say he is a great teetotler.

"Now let us get to business," says Mr. Karnahan. Terrence winked, laid down his han', and spoke up. "I'm thinkin' ther's a kawkus below there, an' as I'm a thrue Dimocrat, an' a constant borryer ov the Post, I'll hear what's goin' on." So we lit our dudheen's and listened to the procadings of Kawkus.

"It sames to me ther' is very little to do, gintlemen, furdher than to deside upon the slate," says the strange vice. "Yis, Mr. Brigham," says Karnahan, "but that fool Keeler's tongue has been rather free about the slate." "Damn Keeler," says Brigham, "we are better off without him. I want my man put through for Congress. He'll milk aisy."

"What's that," says I to Terrence. Terrence winked and put his hand in his pocket. "O!" says I, "That's it is it."

"We want matarial aid in this thing," says Karnahan. "An' Brigham's man is jist the one fur us," says Dave Kirk. Thin Kirk went on in a spache, the Lord knows what, whin Hoskinson spoke up. Och! an' iv ye had heard Hoskinson. Ther' wus nobody in the world could compare wi Falix Bruno' an' Major Fru! Karnahan he sed they would both "milk aisy," an' Weaver said it would tickle their vanity. Thin ther' wus som' talk ov "organizin' their forces" an' "levying conthributions." Weaver wanted them to remimber the sojers, an' Hoskinson made a long-winded timperence spache that must have been thrying to the best ov thim, but for all that Karnahan and Brigham swore they mustn't have too much ov the timperence or soger, or they would lose the Dutch and Irish intirely. Kirk he was ov the opinion that the Presbyterians could do the business alone with a "judicious expenditure" ov the funds they would soon have at their disposal. They all agreed Joe Walton would "milk freely" and they said they knew he would be coal-d; Hoskinson wanted something strong in the way of timperence in the resolutions which Karnahan read with the help of Brigham, but nather of thim would stand it. They were ov of the opinion the names were sufficient, as they stood on the slate. Thin they put down the amounts levied on the kaukus ticket, beginnin' with Major Fru at $2,500, and tapering down to the County Commissioner.

Now Misther Editor, I'm not unfrindly to thrue raform, nor to the min at the head ov the thrue raform ticket. But as Terrence mockingly tould me, ther's niver a workingman nor sojer on the ticket at all at all. An' to say niver a word farnenst the plan ov making a ticket from rich min who will "milk aisy" I'm intirely an conscientously opposed to swallowin the medicine Mr. Brigham an' Karnahan an' Kirk have mixed to purge the party. It may do for the stomachs ov Karnahan, Kirk, Brigham and the "Kommershul" klik, but it won't sit on an unsound stomach like mine. I'm thinkin I'll vote the full regular ticket, just to spite Terrence McGuire and the K. K. K's.

Using Names Without Leave.

Some people have very loose notions about taking liberties with other people's names. It happens very often, now-a-days, that men who have no desire to figure before the public, and who, in fact, very decidedly object to it, have to publish cards disclaiming positions in which they have been falsely placed by officious persons who use their names without leave. No man should use the name of another for any purpose without authority. The authority may be express or general, growing out of business or other close relations which men have with each other, but there should always be some authorization. To act without it, is an unjustifiable assumption; and sometimes grossly impertinent and offensive. Take, for example, this Tehuantepec Railway and Ship Canal Company, which figured conspicuously with a strong array of corporators' names in the Washington Congressional dispatches yesterday and the day before. We know that a number of the names published were used without leave and against the wishes of the persons named; and from an examination of the whole list, we infer that similar liberties were taken with the names of a majority of the persons embraced in the list of corporators. We enter up this earnest protest with the hope that it may serve to check this offensive practice, which is becoming a great nuisance.—Phila. Ledger.

AT Vassar College they have one feature which might be copied with good effect in colleges where the fair sex have no part, viz: A resident physician is in constant attendance, whose business is the prevention of disease. The office is filled by a lady, and her duties include vigilant watch over the pupils. If she sees signs of over work she orders that one study, or two, perhaps, shall be dropped off. She daily inspects the table, orders this dish off and that one on, one to be served daily and another not at all, and conforms the diet to some standard of health.

On the arrival of the Norwalk at Pier No. 4 North River, the watch-graphers took possession of the gang-plank, and two gold watches were torn from the vest pockets of two men. One of them seized the thief who robbed him a few minutes before, but the other members of the gang came to his assistance, and the owner of the watch was terribly beaten. The deck-hands say they often find in sweeping as many as a dozen empty pocket-books.

POLITICAL.

G. B. Delamater Nominated for State Senator in the XIXth District.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CORRY, July 8, 1870.

The Senatorial Conferees of Erie and Crawford counties met here to-day, and after organization was effected proceeded to ballot for a candidate. The utmost cordiality and harmony prevailed. On the 46th ballot, G. B. Delamater, of Meadville, who had received the Crawford county nomination—notwithstanding the frauds perpetrated by the opposition to secure his defeat—was nominated. The vote was subsequently made unanimous and the Conferees adjourned.

The disaffection attempted to be brought about by those quasi-Republican papers, the Pittsburgh Commercial, Erie Republican, and Titusville Herald, to throw the Senatorship again into Erie county, is thus nailed dead, and the Anderson clique is laid out very effectually. C.

XLIST CONGRESS.

(SECOND SESSION.)

SENATE: Disabilities of Kentuckians Removed—Army Appropriations—General Disabilities Bill Passed—Georgia Bill Referred to Conference Committee—Diplomatic Appropriations—Contracts for Servile Labor. HOUSE: Postoffice Appropriations Passed—River and Harbor Appropriation Bill Finally Passed—Additional Deficiency Appropriation—Mode of Determining the Ratification of Constitutional Amendments.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8, 1870.

SENATE.

On motion of Mr. M'CREERY, the bill removing the political disabilities of some seventy-five Kentuckians was taken up.

Various objections were made by Messrs. HOWARD and DRAKE.

Mr. M'CREERY explained that fifty-three of the names had been reported upon favorably by the Committee on Disabilities.

Mr. CONKLING, referring to the name of Gustavus W. Smith, formerly Street Commissioner of New York, which appeared in the bill, expressed surprise that a man, educated and nurtured at public cost, who drew his sword against the country which gave it to him, should come here so hastily to seek condonement for his offences.

Mr. McCREERY replied that Smith had done less to forward the rebellion than General Longstreet.

Mr. CAMERON recognized a difference between the two cases, in the fact that when Smith went to the south he had boasted of his sacrifice for the rebel cause in abandoning a lucrative office. As to Longstreet, he never ought to have received the position he now holds. His appointment was a wrong to the men of the army and navy, and Senators are bound to consult the feelings of relatives of the slain of the war on this side of the line.

The names of Gustavus W. Smith and Basil W. Duke were stricken from the bill.

Discussion continued upon the propriety of striking out twenty names which had not received the sanction of the Committee on Disabilities.

The bill relieving political disabilities of some 5,000 persons, reported from the committee, was moved as an amendment, but subsequently withdrawn.

Mr. DRAKE moved to except all who held Federal or State office in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment. Rejected—yeas 10, nays 33.

The bill then passed by a two-thirds vote—yeas 44, nays 6.

Mr. CORBETT, from Committee on Commerce, reported the House bill making St. Joseph, Mo., a port of delivery. Passed.

Mr. WILSON gave notice he would on Saturday move to take up the Army Appropriation bill and offer as an amendment the substance of the army bill tabled last night, omitting the objectionable part.

The Conference Committee on the bill for the relief of certain officials of the army, submitted a report, which was concurred in.

The General Disabilities bill, relieving the political disabilities of about 5,000 persons, was taken up. Additional were names proposed for insertion, among them A. O. P. Nicholson, of Tenn., in regard to whom it was objected that he left his seat in the United States Senate to take part in the rebellion.

Messrs. Howard, Sumner and Yates opposed the admission to amnesty of every man who formerly held office under the Government and left to join the rebellion.

The name was finally withdrawn.

On motion of Mr. ROBERTSON, a number of names were stricken out.

A motion to strike out the name of ex-Senator Johnson was negatived, after a statement that his official term expired before the rebellion, that he then declined to be a candidate for re-election and had since accepted the situation in good faith.

The bill then passed.

On motion of Mr. ANTHONY, a resolution was adopted calling on the President for any information his possession relating to the emancipation of slavery in Cuba and not heretofore communicated concerning questions between the United States and Great Britain.

On motion of Mr. HOWARD, the Georgia bill was taken up—29 to 25.

With a view of cutting off debate the Senate adopted a motion, by Mr. POMEROY, to nonconcur in the House amendments to the Senate bill and to appoint a committee of Conference—34 to 22.

The report of the Conference Committee on the diplomatic appropriation bill was adopted.

The Senate took up the bill to prohibit the enforcement of contracts for servile labor relative to Chinese and Coolie contracts.

Mr. CASSERLY offered and advocated an amendment. The Senate took a recess.

Evening Session.—The joint resolution making an appropriation for payment to the British Government to settle the claims of the Hudson Bay and Puget Sound Agricultural Company was passed.

The Vice-President announced the Senate Committee of Conference on Georgia bill—Messrs. Howard, Hamlin and Thurman. The mover of the committee, Mr. Pomeroy, declined to be appointed on the committee.

The bill to prohibit the enforcement of contracts for servile labor importation was debated at length. Remarks were made by Mr. CASSERLY in advocacy of his amendment to make bill more efficient, by Mr. DAVIS in unequalified opposition to Chinese immigration or extending to that class of immigrants any political rights, and by Mr. HOWARD in eulogy of Chinese civilization and good government.

Mr. SUMNER renewed the amendment he had proposed to the Naturalization bill, extending naturalization to all foreigners alike, regardless of race or color.

Messrs. NYE and CAMERON favored postponement of the subject until the results of Chinese immigration were more fully developed.

At 10:30 the Senate went into executive session and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

On motion of Mr. PAINE, the Arkansas contested election case of Cameron against Root was tabled.

Mr. JULIAN asked leave to present the petition of nine hundred and fifty colored laborers of Washington for justice and fair play by the authorities of the city in the employment of laborers on the public works.

Objection was made, and Mr. RANDALL made a suggestion so as to include Chinese.

Mr. JULIAN then withdrew the petition.

Mr. DAWES, from Committee of Conference on the postoffice appropriation bill, made a report, which was adopted.

Mr. ASPER, from Committee of Conference on the bill for relief of certain officers of the army, made a report, which was adopted.

Mr. SAWYER, from Committee on Commerce, reported back the Senate amendments to the river and harbor appropriation bill and moved concurrence.

Mr. DAWES declared he could not vote for the amendments and recommended the appropriations for river and harbor purposes be confined to important channels of trade and navigation, and not frittered away in improving small rivers and creeks that have only local importance.

After further discussion the House proceeded to vote on the amendments. Separate votes were demanded on many of them, but all were concurred in by strong majorities, and the bill has gone to the President.

The motion to reconsider the vote giving Mr. Switzler, of Missouri, $5,000 for expenses in contesting the seat of Dyer was tabled—93 to 81.

Mr. SCOFIELD, from the Naval Committee, reported the bill in relation to enlistments in the Marine Corps, providing that after the first of July, 1870, the enlistments be for five years, and authorizing credit for enlistment pay. Passed.

Mr. LOGAN, from the Military Committee, reported back the Senate bill to pay bounties to the First Alabama Cavalry and First and Second Florida Cavalry. Passed.

Mr. SARGEANT, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported a joint resolution providing that the act of March 3d, 1869, making an appropriation for the completion of the Court House and postoffice building at Knoxville, Tenn., be held to include and revise all prior expended appropriations for the same object. Passed.

Mr. Brooks, of New York, having declined to serve on the Conference Committee on the funding bill, Mr. Marshall was appointed in his place.

The House took up the additional deficiency bill, covering items amounting to $1,733,344.

Mr. DAWES appealed to the House not to allow new matter to be added to the bill.

The principal item in it was one million for the census. Some other items had been overlooked in making out the estimates and some had arisen from the creation of the new department of justice.

An amendment offered by Mr. RANDALL, to pay certain clerks of the House additional compensation of twenty per cent. for the Thirty-ninth Congress, which had been ordered but not paid, provoked discussion, in which Mr. DAWES said if the House made the appropriation to increase the pay of officials he would withdraw from the committee of conference, in which for the last ten days he had been trying to impress on the Senate that it was improper and inexpedient at this time, with the heavy taxation resting on the people, to go to raising the compensation of officials of Congress.

Mr. PETERS advocated the proposition as only making provision for what the House had agreed to by resolution of the 39th Congress, but which resolution the Treasury officials had refused to execute.

Mr. DAWES remarked the gentleman from Maine had ever voted for the highest sums and greatest increase of compensation and salary ever since he had been a member of the House.

Mr. PETERS (breaking in)—That is unqualifiedly not true. It is absolutely not true. I do not stand here to have such slanderous assertions put on me.

Mr. DAWES—I repeat what I said, and until the gentleman can find on record a single instance where he has failed to come up to the truth of what I have said I will not withdraw a word of it. The gentleman has also been always in favor of the biggest jobs.

Mr. PETERS repeated what the gentleman from Massachusetts said of him was not true, and he ought to know. He had more frequently voted against than for raising salaries. That gentleman himself had voted for giving larger compensation to female employes in various departments, and he defied that gentleman to show any such vote on record.

Mr. RANDALL criticised Mr. Dawes, and said his course in regard to economy had been that of a man rowing one way and looking another. He was sorry to hear him threaten to resign, but even if he did, the House would run on notwithstanding the gentleman stood here and played the part of a clown. [Sudden fall of the Speaker's hammer.] I withdraw the expression. [Laughter.]

Mr. DAWES asked pardon if he used any unparliamentary language, and intimated he would also apologize to the gentleman from Maine, if his demeanor had been such as to require it.

The amendment was agreed to—84 to 63.

Mutual explanation followed between Messrs. Peters and Dawes.

An amendment offered by Mr. BINGHAM to increase the compensation of pages of the House was rejected.

Mr. BROOKS, of N. Y., offered an amendment authorizing the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House to devise some system of shortening official reports in the Globe, and to leave out irrelevant and immaterial matter.

Mr. BENJAMIN moved an amendment to exclude speeches and parts of speeches not actually delivered.

After discussion both amendments were rejected.

Mr. BUCKLEY offered an amendment appropriating $170,000 for the payment of loyal men in the South who assisted in taking the last census. Agreed to.

Mr. CLARK offered an amendment appropriating $50,000 for the removal of the Kansas Indians, with their own consent. Agreed to.

The bill then passed.

Mr. BINGHAM, from the Judiciary Committee, reported a bill to regulate the mode of determining the ratification of amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

The first section makes it the duty of the Executive of each State, whose Legislature shall have ratified a proposed amendment, to certify forthwith such ratification to the Secretary of State of the United States. The second section makes it unlawful for any State officer to certify thereafter any repeal of such ratification, unless an amendment for repeal shall have been first proposed by Congress, and directs the Secretary of State not to make record thereof. The third section prescribes a penalty for an attempted repeal of such ratifications by State authority, as imprisonment from one to ten years and a fine from $2,000 to $10,000.

Mr. COX objected. The understanding was that when the Judiciary Committee had a day assigned for business that no political matter be reported.

Mr. BINGHAM denied that there had been any such understanding.

Mr. NIBLACK moved to table the bill. Negatived—55 to 120.

Mr. BINGHAM moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill.

Mr. WOODWARD asked five minutes to express his opposition to the bill.

Mr. ELDRIDGE declared there never was a more infernal proposition than this bill.

Mr. McNEELY moved to adjourn. Negatived.

The rules were suspended and the bill passed—128 to 55.

Mr. WOODWARD obtained leave to have printed in the Globe the speech he intended to make.

Mr. BINGHAM reported a bill authorizing the acceptance of the resignation of a judge who held a commission not less than ten years, and who from physical or other causes is permanently disabled from performing duties efficiently, the judge to have during natural life the same salary payable at the time of resignation, and the bill to be confined to judges who hold office during good behaviour.

Mr. BINGHAM, from Committee, reported a joint resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay lawful owners the net proceeds of all cattle seized after the 30th of June, 1865, such seizures having been made in violation of the injunction of the Treasury Department and after the surrender of the rebel armies and proclamation of amnesty.

Mr. BUTLER, of Mass., made the point of order that the bill made an appropriation and must be referred to Committee of the Whole, and the bill was so referred.

Adjourned.

Funding Bill Conference—Nominations—Distribution of the $54,000,000 Additional National Bank Currency—The New Attorney General Sworn In—Naval Academy Candidates—Protocol and Treaty Ratified.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 8, 1870.

FUNDING BILL CONFERENCE.

The Joint Committee of Conference on the Funding Bill had a long discussion to-day, the principal disagreement being the rate of interest, the House Committee insisting on four per cent. and the Senate arguing there could be no negotiations at that rate. The Senate Committee want foreign agencies, and exhibit letters from the Secretary of the Treasury favoring them. They also disagreed as to the gold clauses of the bill. The Committee will meet again at the call of the Chairman. Mr. Brooks declined to be a member of the Committee, on the ground that the minority of the House ought to be represented, and Mr. Marshall was accordingly appointed in his place.

NOMINATIONS.

The President sent the following nominations to the Senate to-day: Porter C. Bliss, Secretary of Legation to Mexico; Marsh Giddings, Michigan, Consul General, Calcutta; George W. Kingsbury, Assessor Internal Revenue, Dakota Territory; John M. Matcher, Examiner-in-Chief of Patent Office; Sam'l A. Duncan, Assistant Commissioner of Patents.

Postmasters—David A. Cook, Mendota, Ill.; Hester A. Birdsong, Bellaire, Ohio; John Fogel, Cadiz, Ohio; John W. Hays, Barnsville, Ohio.

Navy—T. O. Selfridge, Rear Admiral, retired list, James F. Schenck, Rear Admiral on retired list, promoted to active list; Melancthon Smith, Rear Admiral; Charles S. Boggs, Rear Admiral; Fabius Stanley, Commodore; Wm. E. Hopkins, Capt.; A. F. Crasman, Commander; Henry C. Wields, Lieutenant Commander; Wm. P. Macomb, Commodore; Paul Shirly, Captain; C. S. Norton, Commander; Thos. F. Wate, Lieutenant Commander; Wm. E. Troy, Commodore; Thos. Pattison, Captain; F. Bradford, Commander; Jas. G. Green, Lieutenant Commander.

The Excitement on the Continent Concerning the Spanish Kingship—Diplomatic Notes and Conferences—Warlike Aspect—Military Preparations by France—False Report Concerning the Ocean Yacht Race—The Dogma of Infallibility to be Proclaimed on the 17th by the Pope, with Great Solemnity.

FRANCE.

PARIS, July 8.—The Spanish question still causes much excitement, though the feeling this morning is somewhat more reassuring than on last evening. There were transactions at the Bourse at eleven o'clock last night, reates touching seventy francs and fourteen centimes, the lowest figures which have been reached for years. The Bourse opened a shade firmer this morning—rentes seventy francs and thirty-five centimes.

No definite intelligence has been received from Prussia, but France will not be content with the evasive declarations of Bismarck. Prussia ought, in the interest of the peace of Europe, to withhold her consent for Hohenzollern to set upon the throne of Spain.

From various semi-official journals of this morning are gathered the following details touching the candidature of Hohenzollern: General Prim meant hostility when the Spanish Government notified the great powers of Europe of Hohenzollern's candidature. On July 2d, Prim advised Olozega, the Spanish Minister here, that he (Prim) had chosen Prince Leopold; that the Spanish Ministry felt assured that the French Government would object to it, but that he depended upon the higher sentiments of the Emperor. This proves that Gen. Prim meant to act without the consent of the latter.

France has communicated with the other powers of Europe, and in all cases has received words of sympathy. All she now seeks at Berlin and Madrid is to prevent political complications.

A dispatch recently forwarded to the Spanish Government by the Duke of Grammont has been made public. The Duke says that France hopes that Spain will renounce only the candidate for the throne who is altogether disagreeable. He recalls the services of the French Government in Spanish affairs by interdicting plots and arresting invading Carlists, and urges the fact that France aided Spain in the establishment of a Provisional Government.

No answer has as yet been received from Prussia since the declarations of the Secretary of Foreign Affairs in the Corps Legislatif a few days ago.

On the morning of that day, however, a dispatch was received from Prussia to the effect that that government knew nothing of the candidature of Prince Hohenzollern for the throne of Spain.

A report, seemingly well founded, is in circulation here that the Prussian Minister of War has ordered all the general officers of the Prussian army to rejoin their corps without delay.

The Memorial Diplomatique says a French circular has been issued defining the situation.

The Madrid Discussion has an article on the throne question to-day, wherein it says: Prince Hohenzollern's qualifications are indisputable. A beggar himself, he comes to rule a nation of beggars.

The Speyer (Bavaria) Gazette says: After all he is more a Bonaparte than a Hohenzollern.

One of the many reports in circulation about Prince Leopold says he refused Prim's offer of the crown twice, but his sister, the Duchess of Flanders, induced him finally to accept it. It is feared if this should prove true Belgium will be drawn into the conflict.

A report has reached here from Madrid that Montpensier ordered his adherents not to oppose Hohenzollern.

The press of Madrid is divided on the question of Leopold's candidature. The Epoca opposes his elevation, but complains of France because she acts as if the Cortes was in no wise engaged to take care of the dignity and interests of Spain. The Publo warns the country that this candidacy may serve as a pretext for war between France and Prussia, in which Spain will be the victim. The Iberia fully approves Prim's policy. The Correspondencia announces by authority that the Cortes will meet on the 20th of July. The Tiempo gives notice that a demonstration will be made on Sunday against all foreign candidates for the Crown.

All the Chinamen in Paris, fearing the anger of the populace for the recent massacres at Pekin, have carefully kept within doors, but owing to Spanish affairs the news from China created little sensation.

In the Senate an interpellation has been submitted on the Hohenzollern affair, and the 15th inst. fixed as the day for its discussion.

Nothing definite has been heard to-day from Prussia. Olozaga, Spanish Ambassador, goes to-night to Madrid to endeavor to make arrangements to satisfy all parties. The Ambassadors of Austria, England and Italy had a conference to-day with Duke Grammont. They seem favorable to France. The Russian Minister was received to-day by Grammont.

The Emperor held a conference this morning with the ministers of war, navy and justice. Military measures are already mentioned. Two corps L'Armie are to be made ready for immediate movement. Marshal Bazaine will command one and Gen Lebrun the other. Marshal Macmahon will have an army and Gen. LeBoeuf will be entrusted with an important command, while Count Polekio will take command of the troops to operate against Spain. Active preparations are going on at the seaports.

Midnight.—The Minister of War has declared to the Emperor the army is ready to march at the first signal. No answer has been received from Prussia, and it is reported there will be none before Monday. A telegram from St. Petersburg reports that the French Minister there declared the coronation of Prince Hohenzollern as King of Spain will be regarded by France as a casus belli.

No further confirmation of the massacre of French in China has been received here, and no official advices of the affair either at London, Paris or at St. Petersburg.

Olozaga, Spanish Ambassador, had a long conference to-day with the Emperor, at which Chevalier Negra, Italian Minister, was present. It is not certain now whether Olozaga will leave to-night for Madrid.

The Ministerial journals are violent against Prim and Bismarck, and say France will not accept explanations from them.

Semi-official journals of Berlin say Bismarck is the accomplice of Prim in the Hohenzollern intrigue, and the King of Prussia has given permission to the project.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, July 8.—A report was received at a late hour last night purporting to come from Cork, that the yacht Dauntless had returned to Queenstown, having lost her foremost. Inquiries were immediately addressed from the agency of the associated press by telegraph to Queenstown, in reply to which a complete contradiction is given to the report. None of the yachts which started on the ocean race have been heard of since their departure.

The Commons was in Committee again to-night on the education bill. Several amendments were adopted. One offered by Mr. Bagley, increasing the stringency of the clause which makes school attendance compulsory, excited an animated debate. Mr. Forster admitted the necessity for some compulsion, but had objection to unqualified compulsion. Mr. Gathorne Hardy thought the law and not local boards should determine the point of compulsion. The amendment was rejected by 138 majority.

The Lancet to-day reports the mental and bodily vigor of Mr. Bright completely restored.

Copious showers during the past twenty-four hours in England, alternating with sun shine, has greatly improved the prospects of the growing crops.

Rev. Charles Leslie, of the Episcopal Church of Ireland, is dead.

The Court of Sessions of Edinburg has rendered judgment requiring Forrester, a Glasgow bookseller, to pay 500 pounds damages for selling an American edition of Tennyson's Poems.

There has been much informal comment in the Commons to-night on Prussia's delay in responding definitely to the note of France. The opinion is frequently expressed that this indicated a spirit of mischief, if not a more dangerous purpose, on the part of Prussia.

The excitement has been intense over affairs on the continent, but there is a reaction of sentiment to-day, in consequence of the conviction that war may be avoided. The panic and reaction are probably equally unreasonable.

ROME.

ROME, July 8.—The dogma of infallibility will be proclaimed on the 17th inst. Preparations are being made for a magnificent celebration of the event. The ceremonials attending the publication of the dogma will be held in the Church of Leo IV. The Pope will occupy the veritable chair of St. Peter. The Cardinals, Archbishops and Bishops will attend in full canonicals, and the various religious orders will go to the church in procession. The conclusion of the religious ceremonies will be heralded to the populace with salutes from canon and by the pealing of bells.

Correspondence from Rome of the 5th represents that the orators on both sides of the infallibility question in the Council have renounced their intention of speaking on condition that manuscripts of speeches be submitted to the Deputation on Faith. It is probable the schema will be voted before the 15th. On Tuesday chapter third was adopted, and the vote on the last chapter, which deals exclusively with the dogma of infallibility, will soon follow. The partisans of the dogma believe the original form will be maintained by the Council and promulgated on the 17th by the Pope with extraordinary solemnity and rejoicing.

According to later advices the sitting of the Council was suspended some days, pending the preparation of an amendment to the chapter on infallibility. Several American prelates protested against the abrupt close of the discussion on chapter third.

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, July 8.—The official journals contradict all the reports of the interference of Austria in the pending difficulty between France, Prussia and Spain. They declare that Austria will not under any circumstances participate in the controversy.

A motion limiting the amount of work to be done by members working piece work was referred.

Wm. G. Bradly moved that the constitution be amended to abolish all future strikes by minor Unions and a system be adopted for the arbitration of all difficulties. Referred.

The convention resolved that no co-operative foundrys or other members of this Union be allowed to make contracts with or make any work for any foundry when there is any trouble existing, under penalty of expulsion.

St. Crispins and Servile Labor.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, July 8.—The Grand Lodge of Knights of St. Crispin met at Tremont Temple to-night. The resolutions adopted by the Lodge in special session to-day were read and heartily approved. They protest against the new attempt to degrade labor by the introduction of servile laborers from Asia, and say they will try by all lawful means to resist it, but welcome to their ranks all without distinction of color who desire to aid in bringing up in this country a class of mechanics whose skill, enterprise, loyalty and devotion to the best interests of labor shall commend them to the favorable consideration of all.

—Yesterday, at the residence of Mr. McMasters, in Chicago, a colored lad named Wm. Sanders, employed as a servant in the family, entered the room where Annie Conlin, white girl, also employed as a servant, was engaged at her work, locked the door and asked Annie if she would marry him. She replied, indignantly, "no." Whereupon he drew a knife and cut her throat. The screams of the girl brought Mr. and Mrs. McMasters to the door, but before the door could be burst open be seized a knife and inflicted several stabs on his own person. He was seized and removed to the police station. Both are in a critical condition.

—The St. Domingo treaty will not be abandoned, but if agreement can be settled it will be brought up in some shape next session. The treaties, that of annexation and for the purchase of Samana, are distinct. The latter has not yet been acted on at all. The claim of the United States, however, until October next, is established, and beyond that time, if the money is not paid, some arrangements will have to be made so as to await the reassembling of Congress.

—The Red River New Nation, of June 24th, says that on the 23d the Legislative Assembly of Assinobia was convened by Riel to take action on the Manitoba bill and articles of confederation as reported by delegates. They were adopted, at which Reil expressed his satisfaction. It is thought that the Commissioners must have brought back assurances from Ottawa of amnesty to Riel or the adoption of the bill would not have been so sudden and unanimous.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 111[illegible]111¼.

OUR special from Corry, Pa., announces the nomination of Mr. Delemater for Senator from the Erie-Crawford district, on the forty-sixth ballot.

MR. CARNAHAN, STAND UP! Was there or was there not a meeting held at your office on Fourth avenue to fix up a ticket for the late "Pure" Convention?

GEN. JAS. S. NEGLEY'S able speech in Congress on our commercial and shipping interests has been neatly printed and is being largely circulated throughout the country.

IN order to better compete with rival New York companies, a modification in the lease held by the Pennsylvania Railroad on the Erie Railroad, is asked from the Philadelphia Councils by the former corporation.

THE Titusville Herald announces that George K. Anderson was registered and voted in the Second ward, Titusville, in the Fall of 1869. It was exceedingly unfortunate for that gentleman that he was accredited with registration in two cities.

THE presentment of the Grand Jury of the Court of Quarter Sessions, elsewhere published, is an interesting document. The jury was one of the most intelligent and practical we have ever had, and their suggestions are eminently worthy consideration.

THE Philadelphia Age, one of the wickedest of our Democratic journals, in its prospectus, says: "The stories in the Age are almost invariably completed in a single number." Every reader has discovered that in a journal always complete with stories.

THE Republican Congressional Conferees of the 21st District will meet at the Monongahela House, Pittsburgh, on Tuesday, July 19th, 1870, to nominate a candidate for Congress. This District comprises Indiana, Westmoreland and Fayette counties.

A NUMBER of the friends of Mr. Keeler, who have in past years co-labored with him in the Republican ranks and who with him signed the call for a convention, which met on Wednesday last, would thank him to say whether he did or did not, when asked to attend a caucus meeting in the office of R. B. Carnahan, Esq., decline doing so, protesting against the right of any such caucus to form a ticket for the popular suffrage?

THE Commercial is fearful that there will be two Republican tickets in the field next fall. How stupid. If the editor of our cotemporary will again read the call of the Republican Executive Committee, he will discover that the two Conventions to be assembled in August, are to act in conjunction with each other to nominate but one ticket, so that there is not the slightest danger of two Republican tickets being in the field. Careless reading is almost inexcusable in an editor.

THE Warren Mail thus speaks of Mr. Delamater, whose nomination to the State Senate over Mr. G. K. Anderson is elsewhere noticed:

> We record the success of Mr. Delamater with the sincerest pleasure. Some years ago he was a citizen of Warren county, a member of the Warren bar, and for a time one of the editors and publishers of the Youngsville Express. He was universally regarded as a very earnest and radical Republican, a useful and exemplary citizen, and a man whose integrity and honor were never questioned. Practicing law at Youngsville and publishing a country newspaper were no more profitable then than now, and he went to Crawford county, where he was among the lucky ones that made fortunes in oil. If elected we have no doubt he will serve his people honorably and acceptably.

IT WILL doubtless surprise many to learn that from statistics carefully compiled it is shown that the Shenango and Mahoning Valleys annually produce more than one sixth of the iron of the country. These valleys contain forty-four blast furnaces and ten rolling mills and nail factories. The furnaces will average each annually 12,000 tons of ore, 20,000 tons of coal, 5,000 tons of limestone, 8,000 tons of pig-iron. It is on the strength of these figures that New Castle, the business metropolis of the valleys, and one of the most flourishing of our small cities, claims that it is to the interest of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company to make it an objective point in the extension of their line west.

THE Southern Democratic papers are grieving and groaning over the miserable condition of General Anderson, comparing him to Belisarius and other miserably ending great men. This they do in order to get something to attack the Government about, yet if Congress were to grant a sum of money to Gen. Anderson there would be a howl set up by these very journals which would resound throughout the continent, making all sorts of accusations, such as robbery, extravagance, misuse of public moneys, etc. No, Congress does just as well to let this matter alone, making no precedent. But if the suggestion of a Chicagoan be acted upon, and a dollar subscription be taken up, the noble old hero will be rendered comfortable for life, all anxieties for the future of his family will be dispelled and the Democratic howlers will have an excellent chance to button up their pocket books and close their mouths.

THE SPANISH CROWN.

It appears that General Prim will not be allowed to dictate nor the Cortes at Madrid to declare who shall be the successor to the abdicated throne of the ex-Queen Isabella of Spain, without receiving the consent of the "Great Powers" of Europe to do so. A week or two since General Prim dispatched a delegation to Prussia to offer the Spanish crown and throne to Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen. As soon as it was known that the deputation had taken its departure on an errand of king-making, it was alleged that the project was the result of an intrigue entered into between Prim and Bismarck, with the view of proclaiming a Hohenzollern prince King of Spain without the consent of the Cortes. But at a meeting of the Ministerial Council, held on the third instant, General Prim was exculpated of the guilt of intrigue, and it was shown that he had not only acted in concert with the Regent Serrano, but that he had no intention of proclaiming a King without the consent of the Spanish Congress.

However, even before the matter assumed any tangible shape notes, protocols and dispatches flew from capital to capital in Europe, as thickly as the leaves of autumn. France became profoundly agitated over the matter and Napoleon declared that no Prince of Hohenzollern should be placed on the throne of Spain, if he could prevent it, either by diplomacy or a resort to armed force. Accordingly, it was proposed in the Corps Legislatif that the matter be referred to a Congress of the leading European powers for settlement.

In the meantime, it was well known that Prussia was desirous that the thing should be accomplished, although the King refused to give any explanation of his wishes. Subsequently, a note was received at Paris from the Prussian Government, which declared in substance, that the proposed candidate for the Spanish throne was not a member of the royal family, and that whilst the King had not interposed his influence to secure the offer of the throne of Spain to Leopold, and would only give his consent, definitely, after a vote of the Cortes was taken, he would nevertheless support him if elected. In addition, a rumor prevailed on Thursday that Spain had concluded a new treaty of alliance with Prussia.

In this state of affairs it is believed that France will not agree to submit the settlement of the question to a Congress of European powers, but will deal directly with Prussia and Spain.

Everything, if we are to place reliance on the telegrams received yesterday, looks like war. The French fleet, it is said, will sail immediately for the Mediterranean, and the Senate has proposed to increase the military contingent from ninety to one hundred thousand strong.

The London papers announce that, notwithstanding the intimate domestic relations subsisting between Prussia and Great Britain, England does not favor the elevation of Hohenzollern to the Spanish throne. Austria maintains a strict neutrality, and what part, if any, she may take in the contest is not foreshadowed.

Leopold is a near relative of Napoleon III, "his grandmother being of the Beauharnais family." But consanguinity, or affinity, exerts but little influence, in most cases, in the governmental affairs of the European Continent, when important personal and national considerations are involved. Napoleon thinks more of his personal and imperial safety than of the elevation of a princely relative to Spanish rule. Prussia is a strong and formidable military power. The wily and astute Bismarck and revolutionary Prim are dangerous opponents, and the "Nephew of his uncle" will not, if he can prevent it, permit any man of their choice, however closely allied to him by blood, to assume the reins of monarchical power on the southern frontier of his empire.

The progress and development of the affair will then be watched with intense interest. There is something more involved in it than the coercion of the Cortes to take immediate steps to elect a King. France is evidently in earnest. Feeling on the subject is not limited to official circles. The people seem to be violently opposed to the project, and if the present candidate is not withdrawn, war seems almost inevitable.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

In a review of Dr. Evan's "Christian Doctrine of Marriage," by the Churchman, the position is assumed that the law of the Protestant Episcopal Church on divorce is the right one, that the innocent party alone is permitted to marry. While it is a technical inconsistency in thus setting one side free and not the other, it is only technical. It thinks that it precludes the possibility of a person to benefit themselves by the commission of a wrong. The views of the English Church, Dr. Evans argues, evidently favor a larger liberty, permitting the guilty party in a divorce for adultery, to re-marry. The Churchman shows very conclusively that in this country, if the Church allowed this privilege, it would in countless cases lead to adultery as the shortest way of obtaining divorces. It is the wish to indulge adulterous passion which lies at the foundation of half the divorces which are sought. It closes with words clear and decided that there is but one issue and that is between the law of matrimony as God made it, and the law of mere cohabitation during mutual agreement. Admit expediency to interfere with the bond of marriage, and you admit destruction.

Gradually system is developing, in regard to raising the Five Million Fund proposed by the re-united Presbyterian Church. It is proposed to secure one million free-will offerings of ten cents per week, which will give the entire amount in a year. Each Presbytery is to see that each church is organized to carry out the plan. The leading objects to be assisted are institutions of learning, church buildings and manses, institutions for the freedmen and Sustentation fund.

A Unitarian missionary in the West represents that there is no need of an organization in Flint, Michigan, "so long as the Congregational and the Presbyterian pastors there preach such good Unitarian doctrine."

At the late meeting of the New Hampshire Unitarian Association, Mrs. Livermore, the wife of a clergyman, was called upon to preside. It is stated "she promptly did in a most able, graceful and charming manner, to the delight and entire satisfaction of all present."

The subject of Tobacco using was discussed at the late meeting of the Presbyterian Synod of Allegheny. The further consideration of it was postponed to the next meeting of the Synod. The paper enjoins ministers, elders and people, whenever it is practicable, to discontinue the habit; Presbyteries to inquire into the habits of candidates for the ministry in this behalf, and finally parents are urged to use all diligence to restrain their children from the use of tobacco in every form.

A correspondent of the Churchman, writing from Alabama, advocates the use of a hall, instead of a church, for holding Diocesan Conventions, as so much of the business and discussions are unsuitable for a church consecrated to the worship of God.

In the recent annual report of Rev. A. J. Levy, converted missionary to the Jews, including Pittsburgh in his district, we learn that he has visited twelve hundred families, distributed twenty thousand pages of tracts in different languages, ninety Hebrew Bibles, besides German and English Bibles, and a number of copies of Hebrew Testaments and Psalters, and in other languages. The work progresses slowly among the Jews, but from what we know of Mr. Levy, he is indefatigable and worthy of the confidence of the Christian community.

Leetsdale camp meeting, near Sewickley, will commence the third of August. This meeting is for the especial benefit of the stations and circuits of the Allegheny District, including Allegheny city. The committee to furnish lots meet on the ground July 16th, and applications will be received by J. W. F. White, Esq., of this city, or at his residence in Sewickley.

According to the Church Journal, Bishop McIlvaine lowered the ordinance of confirmation at Columbus, Ohio, by saying that it was no sacrament, and the laying on of his hands did not thereby confer any grace.

The Episcopal Council of the Diocese of Wisconsin, several days ago reported a new canon, which was adopted, that any communicant marrying outside of the communion, or married by any other than a clergyman of the Episcopal Church, shall stand pro facto—excommunicated. We learn since that the resolution was offered but not adopted.

We are not surprised to learn that Rev. Doctors George Brown and William Collier, are endeavoring to effect a change of the name of their Church, by putting "Protestant" back into it, instead of it being Methodist Church. Singular title to say the least, when there are several branches of the great Methodist family.

The father of Bishop Kingsley, died at Farmington, Penna., Saturday week, without any premonition of illness. Since the death of his honored son, the Bishop, in Beruit, he has not been as robust as formerly.

Sunday week, at the morning service, at the Catholic Cathedral, Philadelphia, three hundred and thirty-six children received their first communion. In the afternoon the confirmation of four hundred and three candidates took place.

The following synopsis of the objects and aims of the proposed Evangelical Alliance, to be held in New York, from September 25th to October 3d, will give some idea of the character of the meeting: The meeting will be held daily in Dr. Crosby's church and St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, and in the Young Men's Christian Association Building, and the topics of discussion are as follows: First day—The State of Religion throughout the World. Second day—Christian Union. Third day—Christianity and its Antagonists. Fourth day—The Christian Life. Fifth day—Christianity and Civil Government. Sixth day—Christian Missions. Seventh day—Christianity and Social Evils. These general subjects are to be subdivided and discussed each day. Over two thousand delegates will be present, by invitation, three hundred of whom are expected from Great Britain and Ireland.

A Victim on the Altar of Bacchus—Horrible Contest—A Drinking Duel.

The New York Sunday Dispatch is our authority for the following: A fatal drinking match came off in Williamsburg a few days ago which has not yet been made public. It appears there was a dispute between an old French physician and the proprietor of one of the largest breweries in the place, as to which of the two could drink the most liquor and carry it off. They decided to test the question by a trial, said test to be a match at drinking liquors at a convenient saloon, the party giving up the trial first to be considered a second-class drinker, and pay for a grand supper. Both parties to this novel and disgusting contest were large men, the physician being able to turn the scales at two hundred and twenty pounds, while the brewer was perfectly mammoth in proportions — a perfect Gambrinus — weighing fully two hundred and fifty pounds. A large crowd of professional and amateur drinkists were on hand when the match commenced, and the bets were freely taken in favor of the brewer, the German element predominating. The first instalment of four bottles of what was labelled "Bourbon Whisky" were disposed of, each man drinking the same as his opponent, and at the same time. The whisky gave them renewed vitality, apparently, for they laughed and talked right merrily, albeit they began to give evidence of having cultivated a crop of fur on their tongues; still they drank about once every five minutes, and drank deep and deeper. They changed their tipple to claret, as a tonic, and here the Frenchman seemed to be more at home. It did not suit the German so well, however, and it was soon changed to sherry, after three bottles had been gulped down by each. The sherry was only palatable while two bottles lasted one each.

Their eyes began to show that peculiarly glassy glare seen only in those upon whom the effects of liquor have gained ascendancy, but their strong physiques enabled them to keep their seats, and showed very little shakiness. They called for brandy, of which they partook a little more sparingly than of the other liquors, seemingly aware that while they had no fear of the previous draughts in which they had been indulging, there was "death in the bowl!" that contained the poison.

The German reached out cautiously to the bottle to replenish his glass. The Frenchman endavored to follow suit. The effort on the part of the latter was futile—he could not move his arm; he endeavored to reach out his other hand, but it fell off the arm of his chair and hung powerless. He straightened back in his chair slowly, his body made a convulsive movement, his face became horribly distorted, his eyes seemed as if they would fly out of their sockets, his tongue rolled out of his mouth, a few gasps, his body trembled all over like a shaken leaf—he was dead.

While his funeral was on its way to the cemetery the German also died, the Coroner signing certificates ascribing death in both instances to heart disease.

Conspiracy Among Penitentiary Convicts.

For some time past the convicts at the State Penitentiary, under the lead of the more daring convicts among them, have been maturing a plot to escape from durance vile, and once more breathe the fresh air of freedom. Their plan was to overpower the guards on Tuesday evening, set free all the convicts, and when outside the prison walls each man to take care of himself, and seek, as best he could, a place of safety on his own hook. Everything worked well, and so secret their movements and interviews that the leaders thought the officers of the institution would be caught unprepared for the proposed emeute. Not so, however, as one of the convicts, who was let into the secret, went to Superintendent Strother on Tuesday morning and apprised him of all their plans. He at once made preparations to give them a fitting reception in the event they should attack the guard, by increasing his force some twenty or more men. These he quietly armed with loaded muskets. The preparations disclosed to the leaders, who were on the watch, that there had been treachery in their camp. So they prudently deferred a demonstration at the time fixed. The Superintendent, however, continues his precautionary preparations, and will not allow himself to be surprised. The leaders will be punished and made an example of.—Richmond Whig, July 1.

A Brick Wagon Annihilated.

It was a bright idea that recently came to the aid of the driver of four horses attached to a brick wagon, fully loaded with bricks, which stalled on a crossing of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, in Sedamsville. When he found that his horses could not drag the wagon to a place of safety, the driver unhitched them and left, paying no attention a train that was approaching. As the train came dashing around the curve the engineer saw that it was too late to attempt to stop. So the engine dashed through the obstruction, breaking the wagon into small fragments. As the minstrels would say, that wagon was knocked speechless; it never spoke again; it's tongue was broken in two. It might also be added that it was a very tired wagon, as were also it felloes. Through a tremendous shower of bricks and a big cloud of dust the engine, with only its head-light damaged, and the long train escaped with safety, to the great relief of some observers in a buggy, who had expected to witness a terrible catastrophe.

THE general public, that reads so much concerning the doings in the Courts of Fisk, Jun., is led to imagine that he is indeed the soul of all the legal contests and brow-beating raids. The fact is, that James Fisk, Jun., would have been on his back long ago had not the combined genius of Frederick Lane and David Dudley Field been constantly at work to disentangle his affairs and keep him on the offensive. This man Lane is really the smartest of the Erie trio, but he keeps in the background with his machinery and batteries. He, too, is a man of great means; although he was little more than a lawyer's clerk four or five years ago. "Fred" Lane sits behind the scenes and pulls the wires, content to let Gould and Fisk receive notoriety.—Chicago Times.

MESSRS. EDITORS: As the Republican Convention that meets in August will be expected to put in nomination its very best men, allow me to offer to its consideration for the office of Prothonotary, James Montooth. Mr. Montooth is a merchant of the first standing, on Smithfield street, a gentleman of intelligence and capacity, a Republican of the first water, whose selection would add much force and influence to the ticket. MERIT.

FOREIGN.

IN Bavaria by extensive grants of leave of absence the expenses of the army have been reduced three millions and a half florins.

IT IS stated that should the dogma of the infallibility of the Pope be declared by the Ecumenical Council, there will be an extensive return of perverts to the Church of England. Several well known quondam Anglicans are corresponding with one another on the subject.

THE Bishop of Chester has refused to consecrate a church at West Derby, near Liverpool on account of the elaborate character of the decorations. The walls and roof, and almost every part of the church are covered with painting and gilding, and there is an altar piece which the Bishop considers objectionable. The founder of the church, a Mrs. Reade, who has spent £30,000 upon it, and refuses to alter it to suit the views of the Bishop, threatens him with a law suit.

THE number of persons holding lands in England is dwindling down steadily, until there are now but 30,766 landed proprietors in the whole island. In France there were, in 1861, 7,845,724 landed proprietors of all kinds. Of this number, above 5,000,000 were rural proprietors, of whom 3,799,759 were actual cultivators of the soil. Of the rural proprietors, it is estimated that 3,000,000 own, on an average, about two and one-half acres, 2,000,000 average about nine acres each.

THE London Times says: "It is well-known that hitherto the United States have been represented at this as well as at other courts by a diplomatist having the rank of Minister only. At a recent meeting, however, of the Committee upon the Diplomatic Service, Lord Clarendon, in answer to a question from a member of the Committee, said that if the United States desired it, an ambassador, representing the most important of modern nations, would be most acceptable in this country; but it was for the United States to take the initiative. There was no reason why a republic should not be represented by an ambassador, as the republic of Venice had enjoyed that distinction."

M. FEVAL tells this story of Dickens: "It was after a London season when Fechter found himself indebted to the management £3000. As he turned the corner to his hotel he heard, "How are you, Fechter, my dear fellow?" It was the cheery voice of Dickens. He told him with some amount of feeling how he was situated. Dickens expressed no compassion, but shook hands and wished him good night. He thought it hard, but "such is friendship." Only the next morning the manager looked Fetcher up. "The matter was not so pressing as all that, my dear sir," said he. "What do you mean?" "Why, about that £3000. Charles Dickens came and handed me the cash on your behalf at twelve o'clock last night."

THE Montreal Gazette says the salmon fisheries all along the coast will be very productive this year, and at Gaspe Basin alone 81,000 barrels have been shipped, packed in snow, for disposal in the markets of the larger towns. Cod were always very abundant on the Gaspe coast, as well as at Anticosti and on the North Shore, but the fishermen were complaining of the want of bait. Only one American schooner has as yet put in an appearance, and was cruising along in search of mackerel. The Dominion cruisers La Canadienne and Stella Maria were on the ground. The former was about to sail for the North Shore, and the Stella for Perch. Fresh salmon is selling in the Montreal market for 12½ cents per lb., and will likely fall still lower as the season advances.

A FEW DAYS since, a young and beautiful girl, leaped from Quay de Bercy into the Seine, to end a life which her lover's desertion had stripped of all charms. Two young men, who had witnessed her despair, ran and plunged in after her, and brought her to shore insensible, but not lifeless. Messengers were despatched to Dr. de Lanessan. He came at once. The girl had not given the least sign of life. He exerted all his skill to re-animate the almost extinguished spark; after incessant efforts made during two hours, she made some motion. Although he was exhausted, he continued his efforts, and had the satisfaction to see life return with all the vigor of youth. But as the girl recovered strength, he grew faint, and presently fell on the floor. Then the girl and the young men did all they could to restore his life, but it continued to ebb despite them, and in a few moments Dr. de Lanessan was a corpse.

THE funeral of Lord Arthur Clinton, one of the Bolton masqueraders, took place at Christ church Cemetery. The corpse was brought from Muddeford in a private hearse, at a quick pace through the town to the cemetery, where it was shortly after met by the curate of Christchurch, who officiated. The body was enclosed in three coffins, the outer one being covered in black cloth, and quite plain. The breastplate was black, with a figure of our Lord surmounting the inscription, around which was the text, "He hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows." The inscription was "Lord Arthur Pelham Clinton, died June 18, 1879, aged 29 years." The mourners present were the deceased's brother, the Duke of Newcastle, and his uncle Lord Thomas Clinton, attended by Mr. W. H. Roberts, deceased's solicitor, and Mr. P. H. Wade, and surgeon. The funeral was unusually plain, and the grave, although in a selected spot, was a common one. With the exception of those attending the funeral officially, there were not twenty persons present.

A FRENCH provincial paper, the Independent du Centre, relates that a few days since Palais de Justice at Clermont was was the scene of a fearful murder and suicide. The sitting of the first Chamber had just been suspended, and the next case to be heard was a petition for separation de corps presented by a wife against her husband. A sudden shriek in the outer hall attracted the attention of the numerous persons who were quitting the court, and a man was seen kneeling and holding a woman down on the ground. The man was seized, and then it was found that the unhappy woman, who was uttering piercing cries of agony, had been literally cut open at a single stroke. The man, while struggling with his captors, found means to stab himself in the region of the heart, and died within a few minutes. The woman was removed to the hospital, but the surgeon declared her wounds to be mortal. It appeared that the suicide and his victim were the parties to the separation suit about to be heard, and as no previous altercation had been noticed, it is believed that the double crime was premeditated.

GRACE GREENWOOD says: While such sudden deaths as Thackeray's, Hawthorne's, and this of our friend shook us inexpressibly, it is comforting to think that they went in the fullness of their genius and fame. I have thought much of Sir Walter, since we lost his great successor—of how Death crept stealthily and slowly upon him, throughout the piteous decay of his magnificent powers; and the picture has come up before me of his beeing wheeled into his study at Abbotsford, one day, when the old spirit was flickering feebly up, and asking for pen and paper, saying he thought he could write. Then I see the pen falling from his nerveless fingers—I see him burst into tears, sink back in his chair, and give up. Ah, cannot even that grieving circle at Gad's Hill House rejoice that nothing so drearily sad can ever take place in the pleasant study out of which he passed on that mournful June day? Neither the great heart or brain failed him, or them, till the swift, sudden bolt descended. There was no melancholy forgetfulness of dear faces, no confounding of familiar names; there was no long, painful groping in the twilight of thought. Surely it is well.

THE appearance and customs of the Indians of the Isthmus are singular. They keep their women as much as possible secluded from the view of the whites. The natives are copper colored, short of stature, with deep chests, straight black hair, black eyes and high cheek bones. The masculine costume is thin calico pantaloons and shirts. The feminine infants have a band tied around the ankle and another just below the knee, also bands on the wrists, and these are not taken off until the person is fully grown, so that the ankle, wrists, &c., may be as small as possible. The upper part of the garb of a woman is a loose shirt, the lower a gaudy-colored gown. A curious circumstance is that women, and women only, wear a large gold ring in the nose. The language of these people is very limited, supposed to contain not more than eight hundred words. They choose the oldest man among them as Governor. They also have a king, who is supreme. The number of able-bodied Indians on the Isthmus is estimated at about ten thousand, and the total Indian population from forty to fifty thousand. They are extraordinary walkers. Their principal villages are Sasardie and Kartie, which have a population of from three to four hundred each.—Letter in Tribune.

HOW TO REPLENISH THE CHURCH TREASURY.

Let Annie buy one ribbon less $4 00
And Fanny give one ring; 5 00
Grace sacrifice one change of dress, 50 00
One sash and fancy string. 3 00

Let Julia from her next new suit
One lace trimmed ruffle spare; 3 00
The time required one such to flute
Let it be spent in prayer. [Blessing invaluable.]

Let Mesdames A. B. C and D.
Their households watch with care,
Each save from waste (theft?) one ounce of tea.
One needless luxury spare. [50 cents per week x14—] 7 00

Let Kate and Rose each take her turn,
With their wise ma's consent,
Each for one week, three dollars earn
(As Bridget left in Lent). 6 00

Let Mary once with Jane forego
Their pleasant carriage drive, [saved $5 00.]
And help dear sister Abbie sew, [earned $5 00.]
Thus save and double five. 6 00

Let Sarah watch the "Sunny Side,"
That makes her husband free,
And when he joins next groom and bride
Receive and give the fee. 5 00

Let Susie save her furs with care
To serve next winter's cold,
And guard her dress from stain and tear 20 00
That she may give her gold.

Let Lizzie stop and think again
Ere she concludes to buy:
"This diamond's cost might save lost men!
I'll GIVE ITS PRICE—and try." 500 00

A BROADSIDE FOR HUMBUGS.

Incompetence and assurance generally go hand in hand, and of all the tribes of pretentious know-nothings with which society is afflicted, the unscientific "medicine men" who attempt to tamper with the health of the community are the most dangerous and the most impudent.

So much by way of Text. Now for a special and particular application.

It appears that a mushroom growth of so-called "Bitters" is springing up under different names in various localities, particularly in the Southern and Western States, which the venders have the hardihood to recommend to easy-going people, upon whom they think they can impose, as a substitute for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, long recognized by every class as the purest and best medicated stimulant and invigorant the world affords.

The concoctions referred to being composed of worthless material, offer a larger margin for profit than that Celebrated Tonic, and hence the anxiety of dollar worshipping dealers to foist them upon the public in its place.

But "forewarned is forearmed," and all parties whom these distinguished (!) beings are endeavoring to coax and inveigle into substituting trash for a standard remedy, are hereby informed of the selfish and sordid motives which underlie the representations in question.

The great popularity and vast sales of Hostetter's Bitters cannot, of course, be seriously impaired by these "tricks of trade," but as the debilitated and suffering have a direct interest in the matter, it is only an act of common humanity to put them on their guard.

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad is completed and running from RICHMOND, VA., to the celebrated WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in West Virginia, 227 miles. It is being rapidly extended to the Ohio river, 200 miles further making in all 427 miles.

In its progress Westward, it penetrates and opens up to market the WONDERFUL COAL DEPOSITS OF THE KANAWHA REGION IN WEST VIRGINIA. And thus brings the superior and abundant Coals of that section into communication with the IRON ORES OF VIRGINIA AND OHIO, and the WESTERN, SOUTH WESTERN AND EASTERN MARKETS.

When completed it will connect the SUPERIOR HARBOR FACILITIES OF THE CHESAPEAKE BAY with reliable navigation on the Ohio river, and thus with the ENTIRE SYSTEM OF RAILROAD AND WATER TRANSPORTATION OF THE GREAT WEST AND SOUTHWEST.

It will make a SHORT, EASY, CHEAP and FAVORABLE ROUTE from the WEST to the SEA and will command a LARGE SHARE OF THE ENORMOUS FREIGHTS seeking transportation to the coast.

It will thus become one of the most IMPORTANT AND PROFITABLE EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINES OF RAILROAD in the country, and command a trade of immense value.

The completed portion of the Road is doing a PROFITABLE AND INCREASING BUSINESS, and is fully equal in value to the whole amount of the mortgage upon the entire Line ($15,000,000.)

The loan of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, being a FIRST MORTGAGE UPON THE ENTIRE LINE, PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENTS, WORTH WHEN COMPLETED AT LEAST $30,000,000, is therefore one of the most substantial, conservative and reliable Railroad Loans ever offered in the market, and is peculiarly adapted to the wants of

Investors and Capitalists,

Who desire to make their investments with the most satisfactory assurance of POSITIVE AND UNDOUBTED SECURITY.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1,000, $500 and $100,

and may be had COUPON or REGISTERED.

Interest Six per cent. per annum, payable MAY 1st and NOVEMBER 1st.

DR. WHITTIER

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST. (near Court House) Pittsburgh.

PROPOSALS FOR COAL.—Sealed Proposals will be received at No. 12 WYLIE STREET, until July 6th, 1870, for from six (6,000) to ten (10,000) thousand bushels of good LUMP COAL, to be delivered at the Grant School House. je30:z6

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 8, 1870.

The oil market seems to be losing some of the life and animation that was infused into it the other day, which is owing, we presume, to the unfavorable character of the advices from the east. The New York advices were decidedly "bearish," and it is intimated that the majority of the New York operators are bears, and that it is their policy, for the present at least, to keep prices down, and, if possible, to prevent any advance. The feeling is pretty generally entertained, however, that as the exporting season is now at hand, and the stocks, both in New York and Philadelphia are comparatively light, prices are more likely to go higher than lower, and, consequently, there are but few sellers at quotations.

CRUDE.

Is hardly as strong; sales in lots of some 6,000 bbls, seller July, at 11⅜, against sales yesterday at 11⅜@12. The offerings, however, are not large, and the stock of spot oil, on the market, is light; though it is equally true that the demand is not urgent.

REFINED.

July is off, as compared with yesterday, ⅛ of a cent, while futures are steady and prices pretty well sustained. Sale of 500 bbls last half July at 27⅜; and 500 each September and October at 28. August quoted at 27⅝; and September to December at 28. There has been no buyer or seller options all year sold for some time.

—Since the above was put in type we have the following additional sales reported: 2,000 July at 27⅜; 1,500 do at 27⅝; 500 each September to December at 28; and 500 each, August to October at 28⅛.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 8, 1870.

There has been a fair business in metal this week the sales being large for the season, unusually so, mainly for future delivery, and this would indicate that buyers have become impressed with the belief that the bottom has been touched, that prices are not likely to go much lower, and that the indications are more favorable for an advance than a decline. This is based on the allegation that the present prices are below the cost of making it, and it is always considered a safe investment to buy almost any article at cost.

Live Stock Market.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Beeves number 1,200 today, after 2,100 yesterday; making 7,300 this week. The market holds out strong and everything taken at 9c from scallawag Texans up to 16½c for good western, with no really prime on sale, and not a shade of decline since Monday, but a decided firmness at the close. The poorest hundred and twenty-five Texans 4½ cwt sold at $42 each; 70 fair Ohio 7 cwt at 15@16c; 60 Kentucky 7½ cwt at 15@16½c. Number of stock yarded was 47 cars at Communipaw and 21 cars at Weehawken. Sheep count 3,200 to-day, and 17,800 for the week. The prices were well sustained and trade lively for good stock. Poor Ohio sheep of 67 pounds sold at 4½c; coarse 82 pound Illinois 5c; 91 pound Indiana 6c; 3 cars fat 84 pound Ohio 6½c, and a car of extra 94 pound 7½c. A lot of coarse 55 pound Kentucky lambs sold at 8c; some 50 pound Ohio lambs at 9½c, with best 55 pound Jerseys at 12@12½c. Hogs have gone to 12½c: the 18 cars of to-day completing the only 9,000 for the week; they are very stiff.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The dry goods business is still devoid of animation, yet prices remain steady, except flat fold cambrics, which are ½c lower. We quote Washington, Ballou, Red Cross and other leading makes at 8c for plain and 9c for high colors. Worsted braids a little irregular; common and high colors. No 535, yard goods, selling at 52½c to 60c.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 8, 1870.

The markets in a general way are very quiet and devoid of anything new or important, and business, generally, is dull, though this is not unexpected as it is always dull in July and August. Our country trade has fallen off very materially within the past week or two, and it is a very important element, as there are some branches of trade that do an almost exclusive country business, and they feel the want of it very seriously. Country people, however, have important business on hand at home, which will keep them home for two or three weeks to come, as they are busily engaged in harvesting, and in the meantime our dry goods and grocery houses will be engaged in taking stock and settling up the last half years business, and making preparations for the fall trade. And with good crops, the indications are very favorable for a good fall business, and this is what is earnestly desired.

ASHES—Unchanged; common soda ash, 4; refined, 4½; Pearls 9@9½; Pots 7¼.

APPLES—We can report regular sales at $4@5½ per bbl.

BUTTER—Is quiet with a demand fully equal to the supply, and the receipts are only moderate. Good packed is taken readily for shipment at 16@17, and choice may be quoted at 19@20.

BROOMS—Store prices; Fancy, $5,50; No. 1, $4,50; No. 2, $4; No. 3, $3,50; Common, $2,50@3.

BROOM CORN—Sales at 12½@13 cts.

BEANS—Dull; $1,50@1,75 per bush.

CHEESE—Continues very dull owing in part to the hot weather, though prices are unchanged. We continue to quote at 10@14, as to quality.

CHICKENS—In better supply and lower; we now quote at 60@65cts per pair by the coop.

CORN MEAL—95@$1 per busuel.

CEMENT—Sales of Louisville Hydraulic at

CARBON OIL—The demand is light but the market is firmer at 24c for standard brands, in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—There is little or no stock in this market, and besides there is not much inquiry for it as the season is about over. Apples at 4@5 cts Peaches, 5@6 for quarters and 7@8 for halves.

EGGS—There is an active demand, and with a very meagre supply, prices are higher; sales reported at 23@25, and the latter may now be regarded as the ruling quotation for fresh.

FEATHERS—Quiet and unchanged, at 80@85 cts. to the trade.

FLOUR—There is no improvement to note in the demand and no change to make in quotations. We continue to quote western good flours, in store, at $6¾. Fancy St. Louis brands, $7¾@8. Rye flour, $5.

GROCERIES—The grocery market is dull, and there is not much prospect of any immediate improvement. Sugars are firmer, but the demand is light and prices are not quotably higher. Syrups continue dull, but this is usually the case in warm weather. Coffees in fair demand and unchanged.

GRAIN—There is no change in wheat. The offerings are fair, but the mills seem prepared to take all that is offered at quotations, $1,15@1,20 for fair to prime red. Oats quiet and rather weak, but without quotable change; we continue to quote at 48@49 in first hands; 51 on wharf and track, and 53@55, in store. Rye is dull and irregular; we can report 300 bushels at 82, cash, 300 do at 90, 30 days, and one car load at 91, time. There are but few if any cash buyers at anything over 85. Corn is as dull as ever; sales of shelled at 83@85 for mixed to prime yellow. There is some new crop barley arriving, but we have heard of no sales recently.

HAY—Sales from country wagons at $10@12 for new and 13@18 for old.

HEMP—Sales of undressed Kentucky Hemp at $167.

HUSKS—Corn husks, 3@3½ cts.

LIME—Sales of Cleveland at $2,25 per bbl, and eastern at $1.75.

LARD OIL—Extra No. 1 is quoted at $1,23 and No. 2 at 80.

PROVISIONS—In steady jobbing demand with regular sales at quotations. Shoulders 13½@14 for plain, and 15½@16 for Sugar Cured; 22½@23 for Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams; 16½@18½ for Ribbed Sides; 17 for Short Ribbed, and 17½ for Clear; Breakfast Bacon, 19. Lard, in tes, 17 and 18@18½ in kegs and buckets. Mess Pork $31. Dried Beef, 25½@26.

PEANUTS—Dull. Tennessee, 8@9 cts.

POTATOES—Regular sales of new crop at $4@4½ per bbl.

SEEDS—No movement in Clover or Timothy Seeds. Flaxseed is still quoted at $2,25, though there is not much inquiry for it. Buckwheat quoted at $1@1,25 per bushel.

WOOL ITEMS.

The wool business has been rather brisk during the past week, several eastern men being in town, and our local buyers all quite active. A considerable amount has been purchased, the prices varying from forty to forty-five cents per pound. The buyers assure us that the bulk has been procured at the lower figure.—Washington, Pa., Republican.

Wool in this market remains firm at former quotations—25@30c for unwashed, and 35@40c for fleece washed per pound. Harvesting being now in progress, there is not much wool coming in. Most of the large lots having been bought up, the sales from first hands for the remainder of the season will be light, and we do not anticipate any change in prices.—Springfield, Ohio, Republic

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary last evening with 4 feet 8 inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. There was considerable rain again in the afternoon, and the indications are very favorable for more water.

The Kate Putnam is the only arrival we have to report. As will be seen by card, she is announced for St. Louis forthwith. Capt. Ed Evans is still in command, and Messrs. Harbison and Ghriest are still associated together in the office.

The Belle, Capt J. P. Smith, is the independant packet for Brownsville and Geneva to day, leaving promptly at five o'clock.

The Granite State departed for Portsmouth, with a moderate freight list, and quiet a number of passengers. Thomas Morris is one of her pilots, and we presume Mr. W. J. Abrams is the other.

—The Cincinnati Commercial says: A committee of well-known merchants and steamboat owners, appointed by the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, to visit Louisville forthwith to confer with Gen. Wetzell in relative to the closing of the Portland canal. The committee are of the impression the contractors can excavate and blast the rock for the proposed canal enlargement outside of the outer wall first, and thus delay closing the canal until all this work is completed, when the canal can be closed to navigation, the dividing wall pulled down, and until the contemplated and required improvement is completed.... We also clip the following from the same paper: The Wauanita is lying quiet at the foot of Ludlow, and the Captain perfecting his knowledge of the French language preparatory to his European tour.

—New Albany does not like the idea of Louisville claiming the Lee as a Louisville boat, whereas she was built at New Albany. The Ledger says: If Louisville puts a stove pipe or a dozen chairs on a boat built at Madison, Jefferson or New Albany, she is ever afterwards claimed as a Louisville built boat. The Lee has beat en the Natchez fair and square, and if any credit is due to any one for the building of the boat which wears the champion horns, it belongs to New Albany and not to Louisville.

—An Evansville special to the Cincinnati Commercial says: An amicable arrangement has been made between the rival packets to Cairo, and fair rates have been agreed upon, and there will be no more rebating or cutting of freights. The arrangement gives great satisfaction to the friends of both parties. Business is decidedly dull here.

—The Fairy Queen struck a snag and sunk in fifteen feet water, in Black River, on Sunday, and is a total loss. The passengers and crew were saved. No insurance on the boat or cargo. The former was owned by the Messrs. Ellis, of Cairo, and Milt Harry, her commander.

—A dispatch from Memphis, yesterday, says: "The recent race between the Lee and Natchez continues to be the subject of conversation. All bets as to the race to Cairo have been declared drawn and the money to be returned, neither boat having touched that point."

—Maria Day, the young woman who shot and killed Pilot Gus Banks, was brought up for trial at Memphis, on Tuesday, and remanded to jail without bail, to answer at the next term of the Criminal Court on the charge of murder.

—C. Toller, a well known ship carpenter, was accidentally shot, at Memphis, on Tuesday, by his son.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞DOCTOR WHITTIER CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES. That numerous class of cases resulting from self-abuse, producing unmanliness, nervous debility, irritability, eruptions, seminal emissions, and finally impotency permanently cured. Persons afflicted with delicate, intricate and long standing constitutional complaints are politely invited to call for consultation, which costs nothing. Experience, the best of teachers, has enabled him to perfect remedies at once efficient, safe, permanent, and which in most cases can be used without hindrance to business. Medicines prepared in the establishment, which embraces office, reception and waiting rooms; also boarding and sleeping apartments for patients requiring daily personal attention, and vapor and chemical baths, thus concentrating the famed mineral springs. No matter who have failed, state your case. Read what he says in his pamphlet of fifty pages, sent to any address for two stamps in sealed envelopes. Thousands of cases treated annually, at office and all over the country. Consultation free, personally or by mail. Office No. 9 Wylie street, (near Court House) Pittsburgh, Pa. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Pamphlet sent to any address for TWO STAMPS. ap2

☞DYSPEPSIA—NEW MODE OF TREATMENT. PROFESSOR WALKER, the distinguished English Botanist, discovered in Australia an excellent Botanic remedy, an effectual cure for Indigestion, Billious and Liver Complaints, and communicated the same to the Philadelphia Botanic Institute. The Secretary will, on application, forward free to all, this important recipe.

The Medical Reform Society who makes this announcement will not make any charge for this recipe, the object being to demonstrate the superiority of Botanic over every other practice of medicine, but in return request those who are benefitted to forward to the Society a statement of their case, and thus aid with facts the present movement in medical reform. Enclose a directed envelope to the "SECRETARY OF THE BOTANIC INSTITUTE," 816 South 15th street, Philadelphia. fe4:y2

THEO. M. MORGAN, SAMUEL S. KEENE,
SELDEN E. MARVIN,
(Late Paymaster General and Adjutant General of the State of New York.)

Being in the immediate vicinity of the Stock Exchange and the Gold Board (and members of each), orders are executed with the greatest possible despatch.

Merchants and Investors, living at a distance, can rely upon our attention to their smallest or largest orders, with equal care and promptness.

As in years past, we shall continue to transact all business of National Banks and Corporations on the most favorable terms.

Individuals and Trust Companies, contemplating a change in their securities, or desiring to make inquiry concerning any financial business they may have in this city are invited to communicate with us personally or by letter.

These bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the Company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at no distant day to command a market price considerably above par.

The greater part of the road is already completed and shows large earnings, and the balance of the work is rapidly progressing.

The present advanced condition and large earnings of the road warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security.

U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, only return five per cent. interest, while these pay eight and one-quarter per cent. in Gold, and we regard the security equally good.

The Company reserve the right, without notice, to advance the price.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

HOME NEWS.

Persons leaving the city for the summer, and wishing to have the GAZETTE sent to them, will please send their addresses to the office. Price by mail, 75 cents per month.

We are authorized to state that the name of Miles S. Humphreys, Esq., was used before the Convention of the 6th inst. without his knowledge or consent.

Rev. D. B. Willson will preach in the Reformed Presbyterian church, Sandusky street, above Ohio, Allegheny, to-morrow at 10½ o'clock, A. M., and 2½ o'clock P. M.

Inquest.—Coroner Clawson held an inquest on the body of Wm. Murray, who was drowned on the evening of the 4th inst., in the Allegheny river. The body was recovered floating in the Ohio river near Temperanceville.

Charles Ridgeway, who was arrested for whipping his wife and in the lockup, was attacked with delirium tremens yesterday morning, had recovered and was sent to the workhouse for thirty days by Mayor Callow.

Absconded.—Michael Harrar, who was apprenticed to H. Long, of Birmingham, in May, 1869, decamped on the 27th ult. Information was made before Justice Ammon by Mr. Long charging Michael with being an absconding apprentice, and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Supposed Incendiarism.—Yesterday morning a slight fire occurred in the whip factory at the House of Refuge. It was put out without much damage but the circumstances attending it led to the belief that incendiarism was the causes. Fire Marshal Butler was notified and will investigate the matter this morning.

The Corner of Isabella and Robinson street, Allegheny, near the Suspension bridge is ornamented with an elegant substantial four storied brick building—the Girard House one of the finest hotels of its character in the country. Capt. G. C. Lightcap is at the head of affairs in this popular establishment which is a guarantee that it is all right. Strangers, stop at the Girard House.

If you wish to enjoy a good smoke, try Megraw's cigars or fine cut, from 45 Ninth street. His club cigars are just the article to distribute among your visitors, who can appreciate a luxury in the smoking line. Megraw also has pipes of all kinds, meerschaums all descriptions, chewing tobacco, every grade, smoking caps and everything else fitted for a smoker. 45 Ninth street is the place.

Bridge Officers Elected.—The following gentlemen were elected at the recent election of officers of the Birmingham and Pittsburgh Bridge Company: A. Garrison, President; A. B. Stevenson, Secretary; E. Moye, Treasurer. Directors—A. Garrison, George Duncan, B. A. Wolf, A. Floyd, J. Lenz, A. McLean, W. S. McKee, J. Wilson, F. L. Ihmsen, S. McKee, Thos. Fawcett, D. Chess, A. B. Stevenson.

An Important Union Meeting under the auspices of the Evangelical Alliance will be held in the First Presbyterian Church of this city to-morrow (Sunday) evening at 7¾ o'clock. Dr. Eldridge, Secretary for the United States, will give an account of the General Conference to assemble this fall at New York, and interesting addresses from other distinguished speakers may be expected. The public are invited to attend.

Assault and Battery.—John Dunn made information before the Mayor yesterday charging John Keef and James McAboy with assault and battery. The parties, it appears, were drinking together in a saloon on Fifth avenue, and got into an altercation, when the accused attacked and beat the prosecutor. They were arrested, and after a hearing McAboy was discharged and Keef was held to bail for his appearance at Court.

The consecration of the John Wesley Church, near Roberts street, Eleventh ward, will take place next Sabbath. The corner-stone of this church was laid in July, 1869, the congregation being small in numbers, and very poor. They have labored diligently to this time, in trying to get it finished. They are sadly in need of money. They earnestly ask of their friends to come to their assistance. A collection will be taken on consecration day, when they hope all friends will come prepared to give freely.

Slight Fire.—Some excitement was created in Arbuckle's alley, Fourth ward, Allegheny, yesterday morning by a slight fire which occurred in one of the dwellings in the vicinity. A blanket had been hung up in one of the rooms over a stove to dry when it caught fire. The flames threatened the destruction of the house and caused some excitable person to sound an alarm from box 38. Before the engines arrived however, a few buckets of water judiciously applied quenched the incipient conflagration.

The "Bank Block."—The iron front "Bank Block," on Fifth avenue has just been repainted, and all its fine alto and bas reliefs again challenge the admiration due to them as constituting the most elegant and ornate iron front in the United States. An eminent New York architect certified to us that it greatly surpassed in elaborate and chaste beauty any front of the same material in any of our eastern cities. Now, with its freshly painted surface, it is much admired by all who see it.

Attempted Suicide.—A man residing on Fifth avenue near Washington street, attempted to "shuffle off this mortal coil" Thursday night, by jumping from the second story window of his dwelling. He was found lying on the sidewalk insensible and carried into the house where he is likely to remain for some days unless his injuries should prove fatal. He has made two previous attempts to take his life within the past two weeks, but was prevented by his friends. Only a few evenings since he attempted to cut his throat with a pair of scissors.

The Sale of "Lothair" in the United States is a curious illustration of the fallibility of the judgment of publishers. It is said that at first the Appletons were inclined to regard the republication of the novel with little favor, and that they once thought of making their first edition ridiculously small—six times smaller, in fact, than the aggregate amount of advance orders received before the day of publication. An eminent publishing firm in Philadelphia declined to consider a proposition for the republication of the book at all, the head of the house saying that he saw no element of success whatever in it, and that he was surprised that the Appletons should arrange to burn their fingers so systematically.

"Lothair" is for sale in Pittsburgh at Pittock's Book Store, opposite the Postoffice. Also, Charles Reade's new novel, "Put Yourself in His Place," and all the new and popular books of the day.

The "Panhandle" Obstructed.

Yesterday morning a portion of the arch of the Broadhead tunnel, Panhandle Railroad, fell in upon the track. Workmen had been engaged for several weeks in removing the arch, so as to make the excavation a cut instead of a tunnel. They had completed about half the work when the arch fell in. The debris will be removed by to-day, and the track will then be clear and the work completed—one of the dangers of this road being thus removed. In the meantime travel is obstructed.

A Tasteful Ornament.

One of the neatest ornaments that can be devised for a parlor mantle, which will combine beauty with utility, is one of those elegant, artistic and finely finished Swiss clocks, of which Mr. W. G. Dunseath, the popular jeweler, has a full assortment in store on Fifth avenue, below the Opera House. At the same establishment will also be found a choice selection of statuettes, porcelain ware, fancy brackets, and innumerable articles for home decorations, which cannot but render doubly attractive the apartment in which they are placed. Lovers of home ornamentation should call in and look at Dunseath's stock.

Stammering.

Prof. M. F. Eaton, formerly of this city, has for some years resided at Philadelphia, where he has acquired celebrity for his successful treatment of stammering or stuttering. By a careful training of the vocal organs they are so modified and strengthened as to produce a clear, distinct, and correct enunciation in speaking, reading and singing. Mr. Eaton proposes, as will be seen by his advertisement, to remain some weeks in this city for the purpose of curing all stammerers who will avail themselves of his ingenious and useful art, and we hope all persons afflicted with deranged vocal organs or defective speech, will at once put themselves under his skillful treatment. He will exhibit abundant testimony of remarkable cures from his grateful patients in Philadelphia.

African Mission.

Rev. Melford D. Herndon, the well known African Missionary, whose grandfather was stolen from Africa and sold into slavery in the West Indies, whence he was sold by his master first into North Carolina and afterwards into Kentucky, of which State our Missionary is a native, went to Liberia in 1854, under the auspices of the Baptist Missionary Board. He returned to this country in 1864, and obtained the means for erecting a chapel, schoolhouse and parsonage. He is here again to solicit means for a new enterprise of the same kind. Mr. Herndon is fully accredited by eminent clergymen of New York and elsewhere, and as he knows the ground and is acclimated to the country, a more efficient or more faithful servant of Christ probably could not be found for a necessary and useful application of any contributions that our benevolent citizens may make for the furtherance of the good cause to which Mr. Herndon has dedicated his life. He desires to raise two thousand dollars, has already secured eleven hundred, and hopes the rest will be a ready and free offering of the good people of this city. We commend him to a kind reception by those upon whom he may call.

The "Register" Again.

We, a few days ago, gave our readers a description of the extensive real estate agency of Messrs. Croft & Phillips, corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street, and we then spoke of the remarkable success of the firm and of their immense business. In speaking of the Pittsburgh Real Estate Register, of which Messrs. Croft & Phillips are the publishers, we spoke of its merits as an invaluable reference for all those wanting to purchase any kind of real estate, and as a superior advertising medium for those having any description of property to dispose of. But we overlooked one point, which a more careful perusal of the Register brought to our notice, and that this: the Register affords to our merchants one of the best advertising mediums published. We come to this conclusion because we find ourselves reading the advertisements in connection with the remainder of the work, (so ingeniously are they inserted), with as much interest as any part of the book. Indeed, we have rarely seen so much skill displayed in advertising as the Pittsburgh Real Estate Register exhibits. The advertisers in the July number have certainly had an eye to business in securing a position in its columns. The Register can be had gratis by calling at their rooms as above, or it will be sent by mail free to any one requesting it.

UNITED AMERICAN MECHANICS.

Celebration of the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of the Order—Procession in the Afternoon and Address at the Rink.

The Order of United American Mechanics celebrated their Twenty-fifth Anniversary throughout the country yesterday. The Pittsburgh and Allegheny councils and the councils of Johnstown, Kittanning, Wheeling, Steubenville, Canton, Alliance and Salem, held their demonstration in this city, and although they were not great in numbers their parade was a very imposing and creditable one. The celebrated brass band from Canton, Ohio, and the Masonic band of M'Clure were in the line, and discoursed excellent music.

The procession formed at half-past one o'clock under the direction of Wm. J. M'Gratty, Chief Marshal, the following gentlemen acting as aids: J. L. M'Kee, E. P. Kerr, L. B. Hornish, C. F. Collins, J. G. Brown, E. L. Evans, A. S. Sloane, and passed over the following route: Up Fifth avenue to Smithfield street, along Smithfield to Third avenue, up Third avenue to Grant street, up Grant to Fifth avenue, out Fifth avenue to Washington street, up Washington street to Wylie street, down Wylie to Grant street, down Grant to Liberty street, down Liberty to Wood street, down Wood to Second avenue, down Second avenue to Market street, along Market to Sixth street, along Sixth street to Suspension bridge, over bridge to Federal street, up Federal to North avenue, along North avenue to Irwin avenue, along Irwin avenve to Western avenue, along Western avenue to Allegheny avenue, down Allegheny avenue to Rebecca street, along Rebecca street to Lacock street, along Lacock to Federal street, and there disperse.

At half past six o'clock last evening the procession reformed in front of the Hall of Allegheny Council, No. 161 Federal street, Allegheny, and at seven o'clock marched to the Keystone Rink, where a public meeting was held, to which all were admitted. At eight o'clock an audience, not large, but attentive and interested, had assembled, when an organization was effected by calling Robt. McCammon, Esq., to the chair, and appointing the reporters Secretaries.

Hon. J. W. Burns, of Philadelphia, was then introduced, and proceeded to deliver an address upon the object and character of the Order. He dwelt upon the relations existing between the employe and employer, and said that the organization which he represented composed among its membership both classes. It was for the elevation of the mechanics—the useful men of society—and the three great principles of industry, intelligence and integrity were always kept in view. The Order was not partisan or political in its character, except so far as it brought an influence to bear in political circles upon any question in relation to the amelioration of the condition of the workingman.

The mechanic now occupied a position less independent than forty years ago. It was becoming more apparent that capital controlled labor, and not, as it shodld be, labor having the ascendancy. The Order did not contemplate anything which would interfere with the rights of the employer, or the man of money. It was simply an honest endeavor to concentrate the powers of the workingmen into an organization having in view the bettering of the condition of its members and the whole class it represented. Employers had rights and mechanics had rights. Both of these in their legitimate spheres, should be protected and such was their object.

The organization was also designed to spread intelligence among the mechanics. An intelligent workman always was more valuable than one who was not, and the sciences and arts should be open to them just as well as they were to others. Mechanics should have a noble ambition to excel and the Order endeavored to stimulate this feeling in every member. Provisions were made for enlisting young men in the service by a junior organization, from which when of proper age they could enter the older Order.

The speaker then referred to the many questions which now agitated the country in which the working man was interested. The most important of these was Chinese emigration. He did not see the necessity of having millions of this inferior order of humanity introduced into this country. They would usurp the places of the native mechanic by working for the merest pittance. They were without intellect and yet were possessed of surprising imitative faculties which enabled them to quickly learn to do anything which had been shown them. Thus, in many instances, they could take the place of American mechanics.

He did not believe in shutting the doors against them, but thought that Congress should prohibit capitalists here from making contracts, and then bringing them into the county. If their expenses were not paid in this way, they never would come. A Chinaman would not leave his home unless great inducements were offered him. Congress, then, should prevent these inducements being offered, and Chinese emigration would not assume such a threatening aspect as it now presented.

The speaker thus illustrated how useful the organization might be by bringing an influence to bear upon such questions, clearly within the just scope of the working man. He continued his remarks, which were quite interesting, for about an hour and a half, and at the conclusion was greeted with cordial applause. The meeting then adjourned.

THE COURTS.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Collier.

FRIDAY, June 8.—Commonwealth vs. Alderman Beatus Renter, indicted for assault and battery with intent to commit rape, Kate Newman prosecutrix. The offence, it is alleged, was committed in the Alderman's office, 7th ward, Allegheny, on the 15th of April. The jury returned a verdict of guilty of simple assault and battery.

Commonwealth vs. Thos Deville, indicted for selling liquor on Sunday was the next case taken up. The defendant resides in Mifflin township where he keeps a tavern. The jury retured a verdict of guilty.

Samuel C. Chestnut, indicted for the larceny of a roll of lace leather from Hartly & Co., Wood street, and also for fraudulently making a written instrument, entered a plea of guilty. The sentence of the Court on the first charge was that the defendant pay the cost of prosecution and undergo an imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of three years. On the second charge he was sentenced to one year imprisonment in the Penitentiary the same to begin and take effect after the expiration of the former sentence.

Commonwealth vs. R. W. Morris, colored, indicted for seduction, under promise of marriage, Caroline Coster, prosecutrix. Verdict of guilty of fornication and bastardy. The defendant was sentenced to pay costs of prosecution, the sum of $15 and a further sum of $1 per week for a period of five years.

Com. vs. John Crable, colored, indicted for the larceny of about fifty pounds of packing from the steamer "J. T. Dravo," Capt. T. R. Chester, prosecutor. The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

Commonwealth vs. Francis McLaughlin, against whom there were two indictments, one for assault and battery, and the other for resisting an officer, and a second count in the latter charging defendant with assault and battery on an officer. The accused was charged with having struck Alderman Herron, and committed an assault and battery on officer Davis. On trial.

The Court announced to the jurors that their services would be required Saturday, as the Court had determined to go on with jury trials. The following is the

The excitement in political circles during the past week has had great effect upon some especial matters in connection with county affairs, but as yet has made no perceptible change in affairs at No. 104 Wood street. The crowds still come and go, patronizing Liebler and carrying away his trunks and valises and satchels and carpet sacks, and such like, with commendable rapidity. A good article always will sell.

Young gentlemen who desire to appear well dressed should consult experienced workmen, such as those found at Hespenheide & Co.'s, No. 50 Sixth street.

OUR PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS.

Presentment of the Grand Jury—Their Visit to the Public Institutions, and What They Think of Them.

The Grand Jury for the present term of the Quarter Sessions, having completed their labors, made the following presentment to the Court yesterday:

To the Honorable the Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions, &c.:

The Grand Jury holding for the June term now at the close of the session, respectfully submit the following presentment:

They have acted on three hundred and sixty-three bills, one hundred and three of which they have ignored. We would respectfully call the attention of the Court to the great number of trivial cases returned, and to the almost endless list of cases of larceny by bailee and false pretenses, which have, on investigation by the Grand Jury, proved to be nothing else than a new way to collect bad debts.

The business of the Grand Jury is much impeded by the tardiness and in many cases the non-attendance of witnesses, which we respectfully suggest might be remedied by the holding of witnesses for the Commonwealth in their own recognizance to appear before the Grand Jury, and note their residence. Much of the time of the present Grand Jury has been wasted by the want of promptness of constables in making their returns, and you are aware that under instructions from the Court we were compelled to send for quite a number of them.

We would respectfully invite your attention to some parts of the Court House. The room in which the Grand Jury meets is certainly unsuited for the purpose. It is not only exceedingly filthy, and wanting in the necessary requirements to facilitate business, but we deem it unsafe, the floor having sunken some inches.

THE JAIL.

We visited the County Jail and found the prisoners well cared for and the building, cells, etc., in excellent order, but so far as ventilation is concerned we are unanimously of the opinion that it is a miserable failure. The dwelling in which the jailor is compelled to reside is totally unfit for habitation.

COUNTY HOME.

We have visited that noble institution, the County Home, and cannot refrain from congratulating our fellow citizens on having such an asylum for their worthy poor.

THE PENITENTIARY.

By the courtesy of Capt. Wright, the efficient warden, we were shown through our State Prison and found it a model of cleanliness and system.

HOUSE OF REFUGE.

We have visited the House of Refuge and were much pleased with the management. It is certainly in proper hands but much crippled for want of room. We agree with previous Grand Juries in recommending the sale of the present valuable property and the removal of the inmates to a farm on the line of some of our railroads.

DIXMONT.

We have visited Dixmont Hospital and were well satisfied with all we saw and heard. Everything in and around the institution being in admirable order.

THE WORK HOUSE.

We also visited the work house, but regret our inability to make any report in regard to the institution, as we were afforded no opportunity to obtain information,—although our visit was postponed four days at the request of the Board of managers, and although they accompanied us to the institution they seemed to think their whole duty in the matter was ended on our arrival. It is not our purpose to criticise the institution itself, on the contrary we readily acquiesce in the great necessity for the institution, nor yet to complain of the manner in which the people's money has been spent, for we all admit the management to be composed of prudent conscientious gentlemen in whom the entire community have full confidence. We approve the location, we admire the beauty, strength and durability of the buildings, but we are not satisfied that the managers should import from a distant State a Superintendent and give up absolutely to him the entire management of the institution, especially when it is well known that there are many gentlemen in our own county who are fully competent to superintend the institution. We are not satisfied that this gentleman should have the privilege of importing his relatives to take the place of our own county men in subordinate positions as he did recently in the case of a simple turnkey, who was an Allegheny county one legged soldier, and discharged to make room for the imported relative. We are not satisfied that the Superintendent shall have the privilege of insulting the Grand Jury and preventing the performance of their duty when they make their official visit to the institution. We are of the opinion that it would be desirable to have the law changed in order that the managers might be chosen by the people.

In concluding our labors we acknowledge ourselves under many obligations to Assistant District Attorney J. B. Flack, and J. B. M'Connell, for the great assistance they have rendered us by their courtesy, skill and industry. All of which is respectfully submitted by the grand jury.

[Signed] J. K. BROWN, Foreman, and the members of the grand jury.

The Weekly Gazette.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE is the largest, cheapest and best family newspaper published in Pennsylvania. It presents each week, in convenient quarto form, forty-eight solid columns of reading matter, of original and selected, and made up to suit the wants of country readers. It is thoroughly reliable in politics, advocating the protection of home labor and the general principles of the great Union Republican party. Carefully edited agricultural columns, prove a valuable feature to the farmer, while the Literary, Religious, Political, Telegraph and General News departments are kept up to the fullest requirements of a live, progressive, enterprising and successful family newspaper. The dry goods, grocers, and produce markets are freshly and correctly reported in each edition, and the full reports of cattle sales and operations here and elsewhere for the current week are regularly furnished. Two editions are made, one on Wednesday and one on Saturday, in order to suit the country mails, and subscribers should designate which day's publication they desire. A very limited number of unobjectionable advertisements are published in the WEEKLY GAZETTE, as the space is too valuable to be used for other than news purposes.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—The Henderson Prize Lottery, with prizes amounting to upwards of $500,000 in lands, was drawn at Louisville on Thursday night. Ticket 8,553, held by J. R. McLaughlin, Brashaer City, Louisiana, drew the first prize—a farm in Henderson county valued at $150,000 and $10,000 in money. Robert Hunt and Frank Karrsner, of Louisville, drew the second prize, valued at $30,000. The third prize of same value, was drawn by H. Brown, of Mobile. The fourth, prize $15,000, was drawn by Ex-Governor Thomas P. Porter, Versailles, Kentucky. Number 61,621 drew the fifth prize, 28,478 the sixth, 31,287 the seventh—holders unknown. There were several hundred prizes of town lots also drawn. One of the prizes was attached for debts due. The lottery was fairly conducted and the result is satisfactory.

—At Manchester, N. H., yesterday morning, a fire broke out in a building in the rear of the Merchants Exchange, swept through wooden buildings in that section and soon enveloped a large space. The area burned over comprised five to six acres, and the amount of property destroyed valued at $250,000, on which there is about $125,000 insurance. Two hundred families were thrown out of their homes. There was no loss of life and no one seriously injured.

—Peter Belin, on Thursday, went to a Mr. Hoffman's farm, on the Kentucky shore, four miles from Lawrenceburg, Ind., and attempted to violate Mrs. Hoffman. He then coaxed a six year old son to come out of the house, cut his throat and left the head hanging by a mere shred. He returned to the house again to outrage Mrs. H., who escaped. The whole county is aroused and in pursuit. The murderer was tracked over to Aurora.

—A careful and reliable gentleman, who has traveled all over Iowa on railways within a fortnight, makes the following statement: "Never before in the history of Iowa have I seen so much land devoted to grain, and never before at this season has the prospect for a full yield of all grains been as promising."

—Thursday afternoon the schooner George F. Foster was struck by a gale while off Holland, Michigan. During the gale the mate was washed overboard. A boat and two men went to the rescue of the mate, but before reaching him the boat was capsized and all three were drowned.

—John M. Smith, claim agent, for defrauding the United States by obtaining pension money on forged and counterfeit affidavits, has been sentenced at Baltimore to pay a fine of $1,000 and to imprisonment in the county jail for twenty months.

A Lock of General Lee's Hair Up at a Raffle.

The Springfield (Mo.) Leader has the following: Some weeks since Mrs. D. C. Kennedy addressed a letter to General R. E. Lee, requesting a lock of his hair, with the assurance that if received it would be raffled off and the proceeds applied to furthering the objects of the association. This request has been generously complied with, as will be seen by the following, which came to hand yesterday, accompanying an almost snowy lock of hair:

LEXINGTON, Va., June 8.—Mrs. D. C. Kennedy, Springfield, Mo.:—In compliance with your request I enclose a lock of my hair for the object stated in your letter of the 26th ult., to aid in raising funds for collecting and burying the Confederate dead in Missouri. I cannot decline rendering any assistance I can to such an object, though the mode of doing it, which you propose, is not the most agreeable to me. Very respectfully, your obedient servant, R. E. LEE.

We would state that it is the intention of the recipient of the hair to have the same made into a ring, which will be raffled off, under the auspices of the association, at one dollar a chance.

The Abyssinian Campaign.

A London journal publishes the following remarks:

We are glad to hear that Her Majesty's Government intends to send an English officer with the presentation copies of the official record of the Abyssinian campaign to the different crowned heads of Europe. This is an excellent idea, and does credit to the War Office. One of the greatest results of the Abyssinian war was that it restored our military credit in Europe and America; indeed, probably had much to do with improving the tone of American feeling toward this country; and as, moreover, the leading Continental Powers sent special commissioners to study our operations in Abyssinia, it is a simple courtesy to them, as well as doing credit to ourselves, to present them, with the greatest formality possible, with copies of this splendid record of a splendid achievement.

WE learn that a horrible affray took place last week on the Middle Fork river, in Randolph county, some fifteen or twenty miles from Beverly. Two little boys aged ten and six years, sons of Mr. Samuel Currence, went out in the evening to drive home the cows. When but a short distance from the house they were attacked by a very large panther. The eldest boy immediately gathered up the younger one in his arms, but the panther seized him and tore him loose. The boy seeing that he could not save his little brother, ran to the house. The father hastened back with him, and when he got to the spot, found his child almost entirely devoured.—Parkersburg (W. Va.) Gazette.

THE Duke of Nassau who once vowed never to tread upon Prussian soil, has concluded to take it back, and is about to buy a house in Frankfort. At the beginning of the war of '66, he sent seventy hundred weight of silver to Australia for security and he has now brought it back again.

In a letter to Grace Greenwood Dickens, once said, "I rather doubt the poor Indian as a subject of interest to the public. The wretched creature must pass away. When he comes to the point of stopping steam and scalping engineers, he must be remitted to that 'equal sky' where there are no such relaxations."

THE London Times of June 21, says Rt. Rev. Bishop McIlvaine, of Ohio, delegated by the New York Conference Committee, has arrived in London, and on Thursday last met various noblemen, clergy and others, at the Evangelical Alliance House, where a report was made of progress of arrangements in the United States.

INTELLIGENCE has been received in Liverpool of a terrific storm which had swept the coast of Ireland, and which has caused a vast amount of shipwrecks and loss of life. The ship Maria Celeste, of Granville Pitron, is reported to have been totally wrecked on the coast, and the bodies of eighteen of the crew have been washed ashore.

A NEW sign of progress has manifested itself at St. Petersburg. A shoeblack from somewhere in Austria (probably from sympathetic Prague), has established himself on the Nevsky Prospect, and is said to be doing a good business, though the very general use of goloshes in Russia has made such an occupation almost a superfluous one.

LATELY, says the Broad Arrow, every week has seen bodies of troops being exercised on the railway between Berlin and Hamburg, in preparing trains of carriages, entering and descending from the same, and loading and unloading them with material of war. The construction of the line which is to connect Kiel with the railway network of Europe is being unremittingly pursued.

A VISITOR at Mr. Dickens' house writes to a Boston friend that Mr. Dickens, after he received the fatal paralytic stroke, never regained consciousness, but "for twenty four hours he breathed heavier and heavier, louder and louder, until a quarter of an hour before he expired he began to sob. At last the tears rolled down his furrowed cheeks, and with one last sob his spirit departed."

A QUEER story is told by one of the Greek papers. One of the military commanders having offered a reward for each brigand's head brought in, the supply soon became so extensive that suspicions were aroused. Inquiry was set on foot and disclosed the fact that with an eye to the main chance, the so-called brigand-hunters made raids into neighboring villages, plundered them, and then turned the heads of their victims to account.

COL. LOYD LINDSAY, M. P., writes to the London Times to suggest that there should be a meeting of "learned and good men of different denominations" to settle a scheme of unsectarian Christianity which may be taught in the national schools without offence to anybody. The mere reading of the Bible will be understood, Col. Lindsay thinks, "about as much as the musical but unmeaning cry of a dervish on the top of a minaret."

THE French Minister of Education has commissioned Rudolph Radeau, a German mathematician of note, resident at Paris, who is the scientific editor of the Journal des Debats, to visit the universities of Germany and study the methods of teaching the exact sciences most generally in use there. His report will form the basis of the reforms now contemplated in the higher education of France. Mr. Radeau has already arrived at Berlin.

THE steamer Robert Lowe sailed from London on Monday, with apparatus on board to be used in repairing the Atlantic Cable near Heart's Content and the French Cable between St. Pierre and Duxbury. This steamer has just been built by the Atlantic Cable Companies for the express purpose of repairing cables, and is fitted with the most approved appliances. She will be stationed permanently on the American side, in readiness for any contingency.

IN consequence of the reward offered by the Government of India, information has been laid which has resulted in the arrest of the captain of the ship Aurora, and of two English freight brokers, who are sworn to have planned a scheme of shipping bad cotton and wool, and afterward destroying the ship, with the view of obtaining the insurance on the goods. The total shipments by the Aurora were 575 bales of cotton, and 419 bales of wool. The ship was burned by design.

THE sum realized from the sale of confiscated property of Cubans is comparatively small. The seized property is as follows: Sugar estates, 52; coffee estates, 35; cattle farms, 119; country places, (where stock is reared), 220; farms, 61; plantations, 47; and $2,344,773 in stocks, and $4,167,884 in notes and bills. Besides these, 579 houses, 6,700 slaves, and $570,000 in money have been seized. But the Government claims that the property of no American has been taken or confiscated.

THE Correspondencia di Roma publishes an account of the baptism, in the Holy City, of six Jews. Three of these converts were natives of Bologna, two of Egypt, and one a young girl belonging to the Holy City itself. Ten Bishops were present, and the solemnity was performed by the Cardinal Archbishop of Perugia, assisted by Mgr. Catilda, Master of the Ceremonies. The sponsors were all members of the Roman aristocracy, or distinguished foreigners, and among the number was the Countess of Gainsborough. The neophytes were afterward presented to the Pope, who addressed them in the most affectionate terms.

A CURIOUS instance of the way in which observation fails to remark familiar sights has recently come to light in Rome. Everybody knows that, while the dome of St. Peter's is the work of Michael Angelo, the rest of the building is from the design of Carlo Maderno; but though thousands have gazed at the wonderful church, it was only the other day that a French traveler observed that the middle point of the dome and that of the portico do not coincide. The difference between them is nearly five feet, and must be due to either an original defect in construction, or to the subsequent inclination of the axis of part of the building.

A REMARKABLE MIRAGE was seen at Ostend, on May 19th. Ships riding in the roads in the horizon were reflected in the sky as by a gigantic mirror; a brig, a steamer and several fishing boats appeared to have other similar vessels attached to the summits of their masts, in a reversed position. The phenomenon lasted through the whole of the afternoon and evening, the wind being light from the N. N. E. From 5 to 6:30 P. M., the French coast was visible as far as Dunkirk, the houses being quite distinct, and the shadows appearing suspended in the air at a height of several feet, and somewhat moved in position towards the N. W. The port of Newport seemed so near, that the bridge was distinctly visible.
